Get discovered for the work you do

Your free mfr.io profile helps industrial buyers find your shop using AI sourcing tools, ask technical questions, and request a quote directly from your team.

AI-discoverable manufacturer profile

Your mfr.io profile captures your processes, materials, equipment, tolerances, and certifications. A buyer searching for a shop that can turn a 12-inch-diameter stainless steel shaft can see whether the job fits your equipment.

AI that answers buyers' technical questions

A buyer can ask, "Which grades of stainless steel do you machine?" Profile AI answers using your published information. Quote requests go straight to your team. You set the terms, keep the buyer relationship, and pay no commissions.

Savings on optional paid features

If you choose to add AI Assistant Essential to your own website, your organization can help you save on the $2,500 one-time setup fee.

15% Industry organization members
Save $375 on setup

20% Manufacturers referred by a Manufacturing Extension Partnership (MEP) center
Save $500 on setup

Discounts apply to eligible setup services and cannot be combined. Subscriptions and custom solutions are excluded.

Generate your free manufacturer profile

Enter your company website to generate a draft. On a short call, review your draft with our team, confirm where quote requests should go, and approve what gets published. Your profile and Profile AI are free, with no obligation to upgrade.
